Asset Declaration in the Philippines

e-SALN is not a panacea to all issues identified under the asset disclosure system.

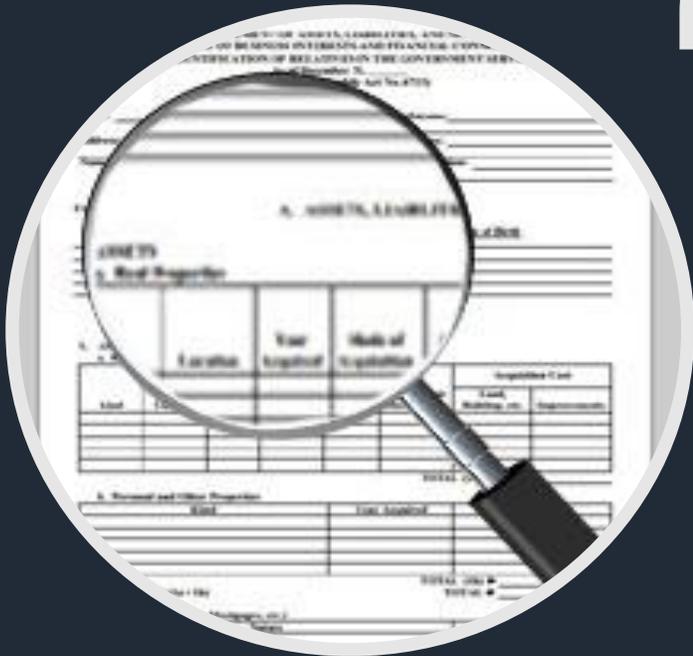

While e-SALN cannot directly answer for all these gaps, it can definitely inform reforms and innovation as it complements the limitation of the disclosure system.

Because it is a strategic intervention, it may incrementally offer solutions to different issue points.

Further, the system may also consider a mutual existence alongside transparency instrument such Freedom of Information (FOI) bill and regulatory mechanism such Data Privacy Act.

Asset Declaration in the Philippines

“ While in its nascent stage and gains cannot be accounted in full at the moment, it is a particularly important intervention which can be enrolled under SEA-PAC action plan as entry point for capacity building programs, including an exchange of experts, technical assistance and information.

This, after all is a recommended area of concern which may be addressed by an ASEAN Integrity Community which Transparency International (TI) proposed to be set up to define a regional anti-corruption framework that would serve as a strong foundation for economic integration.”

Asset Declaration in the Philippines

Overall, an efficient and functioning asset declaration system promotes accountability. ”

Ultimately, the SALN instills ethics in public service and reinforces a culture of integrity which is quite crucial in a credible and untainted discharge of duty. ”
